Discovering Corsica

Between Ajaccio, Porto Vecchio and its creeks, Corsica offers various breathtaking landscapes. The motor home is the best way to visit the island of beauty.

The imperial city, Napoleon's city, is an excellent starting point for this trip. Before taking the road you can visit the national museum of the Maison Bonaparte or stroll through the typical streets of the city.

A stop in Calvi to discover its citadel, the port and its old town where you can taste the Corsican cheeses on the markets. For rock lovers, the Calvi on the rocks festival takes place every year at the end of July.

The Gulf of Porto and its typical Corsican villages will offer you your most beautiful pictures of holidays. Along the coast, you will discover the Calanques de Piana in the distance. Between sea and mountains, this natural site can be visited on foot, by boat or motor home.

Less than 2 hours drive away is the town of Porto Vecchio, with its crystal-clear waters and popular beaches. Going up into the hinterland you can discover the Porto Vecchio forest where it is possible to practice climbing, quad biking and hiking. In the heart of the forest is the lake of L'ospedale, a true haven of peace for all nature lovers.
